

Elegance Growing Green Initiative

January 31, 2011

There are several Federal and California State Safety and Environmental standards Elegance Wood Flooring complies with for all our products. Compliance is certified by independent organizations that are approved at the Federal or State level.

- The Lacey Act, which covers illegal harvesting of lumber.
http://www.aphis.usda.gov/plant_health/lacey_act/
- California Air Resources Board (CARB), which covers the limits formaldehyde in various products.
<http://www.arb.ca.gov>
- California Prop 65, governing labeling of hazardous materials in any product use in California
<http://www.oehha.org>

Further, our Manufacturing Company is certified for ISO 14001 Environmental Management. Certification requires observance of our manufacturing by a third party certifier to make sure we comply with environmental standards set forth by the ISO (International Standards)